The Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies (FCCS) offers programs leading to Bachelor of Arts degrees with majors in Art History and Visual Culture, Creative Writing, Cultural Studies, English, French, and French and Spanish, to the Bachelor of Media Studies, and the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, with a major in Visual Arts. The Faculty’s programs explore different dimensions of cultural expressions and relationships, as they relate to interactions among humans and between humans and other phenomena, both physical and abstract. The Faculty’s programs cultivate students’ abilities to interrogate our cultural and natural heritage; to determine which elements need to be preserved; to explore how best these can be sustained; and to better the human condition.

Programs in FCCS bring creative, critical, and interdisciplinary perspectives to bear on our understanding of issues within culture and society. This fundamental strength makes FCCS a nexus of rich intellectual stimulation because our faculty members and students integrate insights and approaches from diverse fields (including the humanities, social sciences, as well as the natural and applied sciences). The Faculty provides students with a rare opportunity to weave these perspectives into tangible creative projects such as documentary films, theatre, poetry, fiction, sculpture, literary magazines, digital archives, undergraduate conference presentations, painting, installation art, and original contributions to ongoing dialogues in our multi-disciplinary fields of expertise.

Faculty members and students in FCCS are engaged in cutting-edge scholarly and creative activities. Among the issues addressed in these projects are the role of art and creative writing in environmental conservation and sustainable livelihoods; the reshaping of human society through new media and other forms of technology; the intersection of various forms of identity and material culture with politics and economics in the era of globalization; the relationships among the mass media, popular culture, representation, and civic engagement; and how language, literature, and intercultural communications shape, and are shaped by, particular historical contexts.

FCCS is proud to provide innovative experiential learning opportunities that transform our students into global citizens who make positive contributions to communities close to home and farther afield and build bridges of understanding and mutual development across the world. Students in FCCS programs take part in exhibitions around the world; conduct research, and immerse themselves, in cultural milieu during field schools abroad; participate in local community projects; and undertake internships with various local, national, and international organizations.

Administrative Units

The Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies consists of several programs, some of which run across its three administrative units - the Department of Creative Studies, the Department of English and Cultural Studies and the Department of Languages and World Literatures - and some of which intersect with offerings in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

The Department of Creative Studies includes disciplines principally involved in the production of artworks (e.g., Art History and Visual Culture, Creative Writing, Theatre, and Visual Arts) while the Department of English and Cultural Studies and the Department of Languages and World Literatures include academic disciplines involved in the analysis and critical reception of artistic and cultural productions (e.g., Cultural Studies, English, Film, French, German, Japanese Studies, and Spanish).

Note: B.A. programming in Art History and Visual Culture, Creative Writing, Cultural Studies, English, French, and French and Spanish is subject to the general B.A. requirements described in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences section of the Academic Calendar, while current programming in studio Visual Arts and Interdisciplinary Performance is subject to different B.F.A. requirements described in this section.

Note: the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies also offers an M.A. in English (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=18,285,1022,0), M.F.A. and M.A. and Ph.D. degree programs under the Interdisciplinary Graduate Studies program.

Academic Advising
Academic advising for all B.F.A. students and FCCS B.A. students (students majoring in Art History and Visual Culture, Creative Writing, Cultural Studies, English, French, and French and Spanish) is available through the office of Christine Squire located in the Advising and Involvement Centre (UNC 207). That office assists students in academic planning, interpreting faculty course requirements and regulations, and resolving academic and personal problems. Specific program advising is also available through the offices of the Department of Creative Studies, the Department of Languages and World Literatures, and the Department of English and Cultural Studies. B.A. students majoring in other areas should consult the Dean's Office of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

English Honours Program

The Honours program in English is designed as an intensive course of study for a select number of students who have chosen English as their major and who have demonstrated exceptional creative, critical, and communicative abilities in their second-year coursework in English. The program is a more advanced and more directed course of study than the program for English Majors and has additional requirements. Students who complete this program of study will receive a degree that will distinguish them as successful and highly motivated students of English who have achieved a high degree of competency in the discipline and who are prepared for the rigours of more advanced scholarship.

Admission Requirements

In order to graduate with a B.A. with honours in English students must meet the following requirements:

- Prospective English honours students must have an average of at least 80% in second-year English courses. Once admitted into the honours program, students must maintain a 70% average in all 300- and 400-level courses.
- Students may apply once they have second-year standing and have completed ENGL 220 or ENGL 221; however, students are welcome to apply at any time after these prerequisites are in place. They must submit a formal application to the English honours program coordinator consisting of a covering letter, the application form, a dossier consisting of transcripts of the most recent two semesters of study, and a writing sample of approximately 1,500 words (six typed pages). Students from other institutions may also be required to submit transcripts of their most recent two semesters of study.

Honours Program Graduation Requirements

Students wishing to graduate with an honours degree in English must meet the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies requirements for a Major in English as outlined in the UBC Okanagan Academic Calendar.

In addition, honours students will be required to:

- successfully complete 54 credits in English, of which at least 36 credits must be at the 300 and 400 level;
- successfully complete one 300- or 400-level course in each of the following areas (21 credits):
  1. Medieval;
  2. Renaissance and Seventeenth Century;
  3. Restoration/Eighteenth Century;
  4. Nineteenth Century;
  5. Twentieth and Twenty-First Century;
  6. Canadian;
  7. Critical Theory;
- successfully complete ENGL 499 (Honours Essay). ENGL 499 is a 6-credit course taken over two terms, normally the last two terms of a student's program. The essay must be a well-researched work of approximately 25-30 pages and must conform to MLA style.

Note: before registering in ENGL 499, honours students must:

- choose a topic on which they wish to work;
- choose an honours essay supervisor who will agree to supervise the essay and who is acceptable to the honours committee;
- with the help of the supervisor, prepare an honours essay proposal. Once the supervisor is satisfied with the proposal, it must be submitted to the honours committee no later than May 31 of the student's third year of study.

After approving the honours essay proposal, the honours committee will submit it to the head of English and Cultural Studies and to the Dean of the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies for their approval.

While registered in ENGL 499, students will be expected to meet regularly with their supervisor and to submit drafts of their work for discussion and approval. After completing the essay, the student must submit three copies of the essay to the English honours program coordinator. The coordinator will then convene the honours committee to appoint an examining board consisting of the supervisor and one faculty member familiar with the subject of the essay. This board will be responsible for reading the essay and giving it a grade.
The following are dates and procedures for the evaluation of the honours essay:

- March 1 - submission of a completed copy of the essay to the honours essay supervisor. The supervisor will then determine whether or not the essay is ready to go to the examining board.
- March 15 - the essay must be submitted to the examining board members for an initial reading.
- March 30 - the Honours Committee must inform the student if the essay is acceptable in its present form with some minor editing, requires major revisions, or is unacceptable in its present form. The supervisor will inform the student of the committee’s decision.
- April 15 - the student must submit a revised copy of the essay to the examining board if editing and/or revision are required. If the board is satisfied with this submission, the supervisor will ask the English honours program coordinator to chair a meeting of the examining board some time during the final examination period to determine the final grade for the honours essay. Normally, the grade will be an average of the grades each member of the board assigns. This average will become the grade for ENGL 499.

The supervisor will submit the final grade for the essay (ENGL 499) by the deadline for grade submission for Winter Session, Term 2.

After the essay has been approved, students must present a bound copy of the essay to their supervisor, and another to the head of English and Cultural Studies; this copy will become part of the permanent collection held in the UBC Okanagan Library.

Minor in English

To complete a Minor in English, students must accumulate no fewer than 30 credits and no more than 42 credits in English out of the 120 credits required for the B.A. degree. At least 18 of these credits must be numbered 300 or above.

Bachelor of Arts Programs > French

The French program aims to prepare students to achieve levels A1, A2, B1, B2 and up to C1 of the the European Common Frame of Reference for Languages, an international benchmark (CEFR). Courses offered include language studies as well as courses in literature, culture, film and translation. Our language courses are designed to improve skills in written and oral communication, and foster critical analysis of cultural material as well as intercultural understanding. Our literature courses cover francophone literatures across historical periods and from a range of geographical regions. Whether you are coming from a French Immersion program or are a newcomer to language studies, the French program can be both an excellent focus for your degree or a perfect complement to any program you might be pursuing. French is one of the two official Canadian languages and is spoken by millions of people. Studies in French Language, Culture or Literature are an invaluable asset for prospective health providers (psychologists, nurses, kinesiologists), educators, business and policy developers, engineers and researchers. On top of enhancing global mobility, French language training can prepare students for many Canadian French Immersion B. Ed program requirements, as well as graduate programs. Language students at UBCO also have the invaluable opportunity to study abroad in a French-speaking university for one or two terms through UBC’s Go Global exchange program.

Major in French

Students may declare a major in French at any time. Students must maintain a minimum cumulative average of 65% in their FREN courses to graduate with a French major.

Students interested in pursuing a Major in French should consult with a departmental academic advisor during the first year of their B.A. program (consult Languages and World Literatures for a list of advisors). Students interested in studying abroad should inform the departmental advisor as soon as possible.
To complete a major in French, students must accumulate 48 credits in French, with a minimum of 30 credits at the 300 and 400 level. The major prepares students for a strong B2-C1-level in French (CEFR).

The major in French can be completed in four years by students who have already completed Grade 12 French (or equivalent) or who have a certified A2 level of competency in French prior to enrolment in the French program. Students without these prerequisites are likely to need more than four years to complete the major in French.

100- and 200-Level Requirements

Students must complete all of the B.A. requirements, as well as any prerequisites for the required upper-level courses.

- all of FREN 122, 123
- FREN 215
- all of FREN 222, 223

300- and 400-Level Requirements

Students must complete:

- all of FREN 353, 355;

Combined Major with French

Students may declare a combined major with French at any time. Students must maintain a cumulative average of 65% in their FREN courses to remain in the combined major.

The combined major in French can be completed in four years by students who have already completed Grade 12 French (or equivalent) or who have a certified A2 level of competency in French prior to enrolment in the program. Students without these prerequisites are likely to need more than four years to complete the combined major in French.

A combined major is created by satisfying the requirements for a combined major in French and another B.A. program that offers a combined major (currently Art History and Visual Culture, Creative Writing, Cultural Studies, and English). A single course can only fulfill the combined major requirement for one program.

The French requirements for the combined major include the following:

First and Second Years

- FREN 122, 123
- FREN 215

Minor in Medieval and Renaissance Studies

The Minor in Medieval and Renaissance Studies draws from a wide range of courses across two faculties and several disciplines to form a unified whole.

The millennium-long period between the fall of Rome and the Enlightenment possesses enormous importance to the further development of the Western world, and, given the dominance which the Western European world later attained, to the rest of the world. In particular, the Medieval and Renaissance periods witness the beginnings of print culture, European expansion, the founding of the modern state, the construction of credit mechanisms and modern notions of currency, and important advances in technology and communications. Its study intersects with and informs economic, political, and social history, and the histories of ideas and technology. It is also the founding period for several major world languages and lays the groundwork of their literatures.

Language Requirement

Students must complete 6 credits in one language other than English spoken in Europe during the relevant time period.

Note: the language requirement is in addition to the B.A. requirements for an approved second language. The language may be the same as that used to satisfy the B.A. requirement but carried to a higher level, or it may be an additional language, such as Latin, Greek, Old English, etc.

First and Second Years

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program > Overview

The UBC Okanagan campus offers a four-year Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (B.F.A.) in visual arts.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program > General Admission Requirements

Application for admission to the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies must be made through Enrolment Services. Procedures, policies, and admission requirements of the University of British Columbia and the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies are specified in Admissions (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=2,0,0,0).

Admission to the Visual Arts program is very competitive. The number of places within the B.F.A. program is limited, and admission is based on the requirements below as well as an admission average.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program > Academic Regulations

In addition to the general policies and regulations set out in Policies and Regulations (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,0,0,0), the following academic regulations listed apply to undergraduate students in this Faculty.

Academic Standing

On Academic Probation

On Academic Probation will be assigned to a student who, while not falling under the provisions for Failed standing, has:

- earned a term cumulative average of less than 55%; or
- enrolled in 9 or more credits in a term and passed fewer than 60% of those credits; or
- enrolled in fewer than 9 credits in a term and passed fewer than 50% of those credits.

A student placed On Academic Probation at the end of the Winter Session will normally be allowed to register in a maximum of 9 credits in the following term. This restriction may be waived at the discretion of the Faculty. The credit restriction will only be enforced if the student is notified before the subsequent term begins.

On Academic Probation is changed to In Good Standing if a student's cumulative average in the term in which he or she was on Academic Probation is 55% or higher.

Failed Standing

A student placed on Failed standing for the first time will normally be required to discontinue his or her studies for a period of one academic year (12 months) prior to resuming his or her program of study. A student who already has a Failed standing on his or her academic record (from any UBC program) will be required to withdraw from the University and may only be readmitted under the Advancement Regulations (Calendar page: http://appleton.ad.students.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,41,93,0#16325). Failed standing will be assigned at the end of the Winter Session (April) based on performance in that session. The evaluation will consider all courses taken in the session. Failed standing will be assigned to a student who has:

- a sessional cumulative average less than 50%, passing fewer than 50% of the credits attempted in that session; or
- a sessional cumulative average of less than 45%.

Courses taken in the Summer Session are not taken into consideration for assigning Failed standing, although they are applicable for On Academic Probation.

Dean’s Honour List

Students in any Winter Session with a sessional average of at least 85% while taking 24 or more credits will receive the notation "Dean's Honour List" on their official transcript of record.

Major in Visual Arts

The Major in Visual Arts develops critical thinking and creative practice in a range of artistic disciplines. Courses in art history and art theory provide a global historical context and an understanding of theoretical issues. Elective courses help students bring a breadth of knowledge and a diversity of perspectives to their artwork. Intensive studio courses give students practical experience in artistic research and creation and provide opportunities for interdisciplinary activity.

  - 200-, 300-, or 400-level ARTH courses;

Electives

It is important that Visual Arts students note the emphasis upon academic courses as well as on traditional studio courses.

The Department of Creative Studies recommends electives from any of the following discipline areas to be taken in years two, three, and four: Anthropology (ANTH); Art History and Visual Culture (ARTH); Creative Writing (CRWR); Cultural Studies (CULT); English (ENGL); Film (FILM); French (FREN); Geography (GEOG); German (GERM); History (HIST); Indigenous Studies (INDG); Japanese Studies (JPST); Music (MUSC); Philosophy (PHIL); Psychology (PSYO); Sociology (SOCI); Spanish (SPAN); or Theatre (THTR).

Students are advised to consult with the Visual Arts coordinator or program advisor for advice on goal-specific selections.

Minor in Visual Arts

To complete a Minor in Visual Arts, students must complete the following courses.

There are three possible studio streams within the Minor in Visual Arts. In the first year students must satisfy the course requirements of the stream they select.

First Year

- Two-dimensional studio stream: VISA 102 and VISA 103 Drawing and Two-Dimensional Art Practices I and II, and CCS 150 and three credits from CCS 250, or 100-level ARTH; or
- Digital media studio stream: VISA 106 and VISA 108 Introduction to Digital Media I and II, and CCS 150 and three credits from CCS 250 or 100-level ARTH; or
- Three-dimensional studio stream: VISA 104, VISA 105 Three-Dimensional Art Practices I and II, and CCS 150 and three credits from CCS 250 or 100-level ARTH.

Note: All students must complete the zero-credit course VISA 090 Safety Training.

Second Year

- 6 credits from: VISA 206, 215, 225, 233, 235, 244, 245, 253, 254, 255, 256, 261, 266, 268, 269, 271, 282, 283

Third and Fourth Years

- 12 credits from: VISA upper-year studio courses numbered 300 and above

1 Second-year studio courses come in pairs, with Part I serving as the prerequisite for Part II, and both parts are required to move on to advanced-level courses in that area.

2 Because of the individual nature of studio art courses, each 300-level studio course may be taken up to four times for a total of 12 credits.

3 VISA 254 and VISA 255 are not necessarily linked as pairs. Each course can serve as a prerequisite for advanced-level printmaking courses.

Whenever possible, students are encouraged to take Art History and Visual Culture and Creative and Critical Studies courses in addition to these studio art requirements. The Department of Creative Studies believes that Art History and Visual Culture and Creative and Critical Studies courses would prove to be appropriate complements to studies in the Visual Arts.
Students are urged to carefully consider their choice of first-year studio art (VISA) courses for this minor. There are three distinct studio streams in the minor and students should make first year studio choices considering which stream they wish to pursue.

Taking VISA 102 and 103 prepares students for two-dimensional studio art courses in second year (drawing, painting, photography and printmaking – screen printing; etching and lithography; linocut and letterpress).

Taking VISA 104 and 105 prepares students for three-dimensional studio art courses (sculpture).

Taking VISA 106 and 108 prepares students for media arts-related studio art courses (sound art; 2D animation; visual communications; virtual worlds; video and photography).

Note: due to the number of credits required, this program may take more than four years to complete.

Arts and Science Minor Programs

B.F.A. Major in Visual Arts students who wish to focus their non-B.F.A. electives may undertake an optional minor program in conjunction with the B.F.A. degree.

Students may undertake any minor offered by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences or the Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies available to Bachelor of Arts (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=18,282,857,0) or Bachelor of Science (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=18,282,858,0) students (e.g.: Art History and Visual Culture, Gender and Women's Studies, Indigenous Studies, Biology, Philosophy, etc.).

B.F.A. students are required to complete at least 30 credits with at least 12 credits at the 300/400 level. Students must also complete all the requirements for the minor. Please see the specific minor requirements listed under the various disciplines.

Students who wish to pursue a minor should consult a program advisor. Upon completion of a minor program, the notation, "Minor in [subject]" will be denoted on the student's transcript.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program > Additional Program Costs and Details

Course Materials

Students should anticipate additional expenses ($1,250.00 to $1,750.00) for materials not normally supplied in studio courses. Students should budget approximately $300.00 for textbooks. A laboratory fee for various courses may be assessed.

Field Trips

Students will be given an opportunity to participate in field trips and seminars at a variety of locations. Participation in these activities is not mandatory but is an extremely valuable experience. Expenses for field trips and seminars are not part of the normal tuition fees and are the students' responsibility.

Visiting Artists

The Visiting Artist program offers students exposure to professional artists through lectures and studio sessions.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Program > Co-operative Education Option
The Co-operative Education (Co-op) Program provides interested and qualified students in FCCS B.F.A. programs with paid employment experience relevant to their future careers. The Co-operative Education program is an optional, year-round program, supplementary to academic programs in the Faculty. For general program information, see Cooperative Education (Calendar page: http://appleton.ad.students.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=19,352,0,0#17723).

To graduate with a Co-operative Education Program designation on the transcript, a student must complete three work placement terms, including placements in Term 1 (September to December) and/or Term 2 (January to April) of a Winter Session.

Students wishing to enrol in the Co-operative Education Program typically apply in the Winter Session, Term 1 of their third year; however, other entry points may be possible if requested and will be evaluated on a case by case basis.

For admission into the Co-operative Education Program, students must have selected a major and attained third-year standing (i.e., completed at least 48 credits) prior to their first work term while maintaining an overall GPA of 70%. Academic performance and suitability for the work environment, as assessed by the Cooperative Education office during the student intake process, will also be part of the selection criteria used for program admission. Total enrolment is subject to the availability of appropriate work placements. Acceptance into the Co-operative Education Program does not guarantee a work term placement.

Students admitted into the Co-operative Education Program will be registered in the appropriate Cooperative Education course for each work term, once a suitable work placement is confirmed and upon completion of mandatory pre-employment training. Pre-employment training includes workshops, assignments and activities.

Additionally, payment of the Co-operative Education Program fees is mandatory. The fees include a Cooperative Education Program fee for each work term and a one-time Co-operative Education Program workshop fee (see Program and Course Fees).

Each successfully completed Co-operative Education course is assigned 3 co-op credits on a student's academic transcript. In order to graduate with a Cooperative Education Program designation, a student must complete a minimum of 9 co-op credits (three work terms), in addition to the normal academic requirements of the Faculty.

The Co-operative Education Program typically necessitates an additional four months to one year to complete a bachelor's degree. Faculty advisors or Cooperative Education coordinators visit students at their places of work, where possible, and provide advice on the work term reports that are a requirement of the program. Students transferring to UBC from accredited co-operative education programs at other institutions may request admission to the Co-operative Education Program and may receive credit for previously completed work placement, to a maximum of 6 Co-op course credits (two work terms).

Bachelor of Media Studies Program

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Program Overview

This program is pending final approval by the Ministry of Advanced Education.

The Bachelor of Media Studies (B.M.S.) degree is a four-year, direct-entry, multi-disciplinary cohort program blending practice, theory, and research methodology in the participating disciplines. Students take designated "core" courses from within the following subject areas: Cultural Studies; Creative Writing; Digital Humanities; Media Studies; and Visual Arts. Students will be part of collaborative teams working on innovative, socially and economically relevant projects, developing a portfolio of skills and experiences to meet today's employment and entrepreneurial needs.
The core curriculum consists of 63 mandatory credits ensuring broad competencies to offer practical and relevant experiential learning opportunities for media research and creation; the remaining electives will be chosen among acceptable electives and concentrations in consultation with a program advisor to enable some specialization for the workplace or for further study. In consultation with the program advisor, each student will develop a Learning Plan to guide them in choosing electives and preparing for co-curricular opportunities in the field.

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Admission Requirements

This program is pending final approval by the Ministry of Advanced Education.

Application for admission to the Bachelor of Media Studies program must be made through Enrolment Services.

Admission from Secondary School

Procedures, policies, and admission requirements to the University of British Columbia are specified in Admissions (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=2,0,0,0).

In addition to applying, all applicants must supply a portfolio of written, visual, and/or digital materials. Please see the Bachelor of Media Studies website (http://bms.ok.ubc.ca/) for further information and deadline dates.

Applicants will be evaluated broadly on evidence of academic achievement and intellectual readiness, and on applicants' own representation of their experience, ideas, and aspirations. Additional courses in areas not eligible for inclusion in the Calculation of the admission average (i.e. creative writing, the visual and performing arts, information technology, media studies) may be taken into consideration. An interview may be required.

Committed to internationalization, the Faculties of Arts and Sciences and Creative and Critical Studies will seek a balance of international and domestic enrolment in the Bachelor of Media Studies.

International Baccalaureate and Advanced Placement

The Bachelor of Media Studies program may grant advanced placement and/or course credit to students who complete certain International Baccalaureate, Advanced Placement, or other enriched secondary school courses with appropriate grades. When granted, the credit/placement will be indicated on the student’s notification of acceptance to UBC. See Applicants with International Baccalaureate and Advanced Placement Courses (Calendar page: http://appleton.ad.students.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=2,316,0,0#108) for detailed information.

Admission from Post-Secondary Study

Individuals who have completed courses through an alternate post-secondary institution will apply for entry to Year One of the Bachelor of Media Studies program and must meet competitive admission requirements for entry. Transfer credit will be assessed after admission has been achieved. Once admitted, applicants may be considered for admission to Year Two of the program only if they have already substantially completed Year One “Core” course requirements. Students transferring from other institutions should speak to Academic Advising to determine their standing within the BMS program based on course work already completed.

Transfer from Another UBC Program

Currently-registered UBC students wishing to transfer into the BMS may do so by submitting an official Change of Program/Change of Campus request in the Student Service Centre (SSC). Transfer is subject to: a transcript and portfolio.
review; the applicant's ability to fulfill program requirements and meet course prerequisites; and existing capacity (teaching seats and infrastructure).

Once admitted, applicants may be considered for admission to Year Two of the program only if they have already substantially completed Year One “Core” course requirements. Students transferring into the BMS degree should speak to Academic Advising to determine their standing within the BMS program based on course work already completed.

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Academic Regulations

Repeating/Failed Courses

Except in special cases, no student may repeat a course more than once.

Students wanting to repeat a course more than once must submit a written request to the Dean’s office, Faculty of Creative and Critical Studies.

The highest grade achieved will be used in the determination of the student's graduation standing, though all grades remain on the student's academic record.

Dean's List

Students who complete 24 credits or more in a Winter Session with an overall average of 85% or higher on all credits attempted will receive the notation "Dean's List" on their permanent records for that specific Winter Session.

Promotion Requirements

Promotion is dependent on successful completion of a minimum number of credits as listed below.

Academic Standing

Supplementary to the University's policy on Academic Standing (Calendar page: http://appleton.ad.students.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=3,41,91,0#16326), the following academic regulations listed apply to undergraduate students in the BMS program.

Academic performance is evaluated based on coursework completed over a session. Sessional evaluations occur in April and will evaluate academic performance for the entire Winter Session (September to April).

Sessional evaluation standings are recorded on the academic record and are the student's official standing with the university. A student's sessional evaluation outcome is the standing under which the student will return to, continue, or discontinue studies.

In Good Standing

B.M.S. students who achieve a sessional average of at least 55% will be considered to be In Good Standing.

On Academic Probation

On Academic Probation standing will be assigned at the end of the Winter Session (April) based on performance in that Winter Session (September – April). The evaluation will consider all courses taken in the session.

On Academic Probation will be assigned to a student who has:

- earned a sessional average between 50% and 54.9%

A student assigned a standing of On Academic Probation in the sessional evaluation will normally be allowed to register in a maximum of 9 credits in their first term of the following Winter Session. This restriction may be waived at the discretion of the Faculty.

Failed

Failed standing will be assigned at the end of the Winter Session (April) based on performance in that Winter Session (September – April). The evaluation will consider all courses taken in the session.

Courses taken in the Summer Session are not taken into consideration for assigning Failed standing.

Failed standing will be assigned to a student who has:

- a sessional average of less than 50%

A student placed on Failed standing for the first time will normally be required to discontinue his or her studies for a period of one academic year (12 months) prior to resuming his or her program of study. A student who already has a Failed standing on his or her academic record (from any UBC program) will be required to withdraw from the University and may only be readmitted under the Advancement Regulations (http://calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/?tree=3,41,93,0).

Readmission
Students who have a failed year in the Bachelor of Media Studies are required to submit a letter of appeal with their readmission application (Calendar page: http://appleton.ad.students.ubc.ca/okanagan/index.cfm?tree=2,273,0,0#15713).

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Degree Requirements

This program is pending final approval by the Ministry of Advanced Education.

All students in the Bachelor of Media Studies must complete the following degree requirements:

- A minimum of 120 credits.
- A minimum of 42 of these credits must be completed at the upper level through courses numbered 300 and above.
- Once accepted into the B.M.S. program, students are expected to complete all of their coursework at the UBC Okanagan Campus, with the exception of credit completed through a UBC Go Global (http://students.ok.ubc.ca/global/welcome.html) student exchange experience or through the cross-campus exchange program.

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Minor Programs

This program is pending final approval by the Ministry of Advanced Education.

Minor Programs

Students in the Bachelor of Media Studies may construct their program to include a minor. In addition to minors in any of the disciplines or interdisciplinary minor programs offered by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and the Faculty of Critical and Creative Studies, students can also choose a Minor in Education. Students are encouraged to plan their minor with their program and career goals in mind, and to build upon areas of particular interest or strength.

Note: A maximum of 6 credits numbered 300 and higher may be shared between the B.M.S. and the minor. See Double-Counting.

Minor in Arts

Students in the B.M.S. may complete any minor program in Arts, subject to their admissibility to the minor of their choice. To earn a minor, students must complete at least 30 credits in a single subject (discipline) or field of specialization, including any courses specified as required for the minor, unless the chosen minor is normally composed of fewer than 30 total credits in which case they must include the number specified for that program. At least 18 of the total minor credits must be in courses numbered 300 or above. Please see the specific minor requirements listed under the various disciplines of the Bachelor of Arts program link

Minor in Fine Arts

Students in the B.M.S. may complete a Minor in Visual Arts, subject to their admissibility to the minor of their choice.

Minor in Science

Students in the B.M.S. may complete any Science minor program, subject to their admissibility to the minor of their choice. To earn a minor, students must complete at least 30 credits in a single subject (discipline) or field of specialization, including any courses specified as required for the minor, unless the chosen minor is normally composed of fewer than 30 total credits in which case they must include the number specified for that program. At least 18 of the total minor credits must be in courses numbered 300 or above. Please see the specific minor requirements listed under the various disciplines of the Bachelor of Science program link

Students who wish to declare the Minor must be eligible for 3rd-year standing. Arts-subject courses must be chosen in consultation with a program advisor, preferably prior to declaration; The program advisor may consult with the Education office for final approval of these courses.

Double Counting

Double-counting is defined as applying credit from the same upper-level course toward requirements in two different specializations. No more than 6 upper-level credits that count toward the BMS program-specified requirements may be double counted to fulfill requirements for the second specialization (minor). Double-counting does not reduce the minimum number of upper-level credits required to complete the degree. Thus, in order to graduate with a BMS degree, students must have at least 48 upper-level credits; this number of credits cannot be arrived at by double counting. Students should be aware that by double counting they could substantially weaken the intellectual content of one of their fields of study.

Bachelor of Media Studies Program > Co-operative Education Program

The Co-operative Education (Co-op) program provides interested and qualified students in the B.M.S. program with paid employment experience relevant to their future careers. The Co-operative Education program is an optional, year-round program, supplementary to academic programs in the Faculty. For general program information, see Cooperative Education (http://www.calendar.ubc.ca/okanagan/proof/edit/index.cfm?tree=19,352,0,0). To graduate with a Co-operative Education Program designation on the transcript, a student must complete three work placement terms, including placements in one of Term 1 (September to December) and/or Term 2 (January to April) of a Winter Session.

Students wishing to enrol in the Co-op program typically apply in the Winter Session, Term 1 of their third year, however, other entry points may be possible if requested and will be evaluated on a case by case basis. For admittance into the Co-operative Education program, students must have completed all their program requirements to date while maintaining an overall GPA of 70%. Academic performance and suitability for the work environment, as assessed by the Co-operative Education office during the student intake process, will also be part of the selection criteria used for program admission. Total enrolment is subject to the availability of appropriate work placements. Acceptance into the Co-op program does not guarantee a work term placement.

Students admitted into the Co-op program will be registered in the appropriate Co-operative Education course for each work term, once a suitable work placement is confirmed and upon completion of mandatory pre-employment training. Pre-employment training includes workshops, assignments and activities.

Additionally, payment of the Co-operative Education program fees is mandatory. The fees include a Co-operative Education program fee for each work term and a one-time Co-operative Education program workshop fee (see Program and Course Fees).

Each successfully completed Co-operative Education course is assigned 3 Co-op credits on a student's academic transcript. In order to graduate in a Co-operative Education program designation, a student must complete a minimum of 9 Co-op credits (three work terms), in addition to the normal academic requirements of the Faculty.

The Co-operative Education program typically necessitates an additional 4 months to one year to complete a bachelor's degree. Faculty advisors or Co-operative Education coordinators visit students at their places of work and provide advice on the work term reports that are a requirement of the program. Students transferring to UBC from accredited co-op programs at other institutions may request admission to the Co-op program and may receive credit for previously completed work placement, to a maximum of 6 Co-op course credits (two work terms).
